International Student Life - Main Page

Environmental protection is a global field, and the Nicholas School community is comprised of scholars from all around the world. We realize, of course, that it's a big move with extra challenges for many of you. So, if you are thinking about joining us or have just gotten here, check out the info below, collected by you fellow compatriots!

MEM and PhD International students should contact the International Student Group at Nicholas School (ISGN), which unites the international and domestic student community, hosts potlucks dinners and other fun activities. Contact our members at profinter@nicholas.duke.edu. For our official page, go here: <http://www.nicholas.duke.edu/people/students/orgs-isgn.html>
